ExpressManager

Control your shipping management with high-powered and flexible software

Process control.

ExpressManager lets you manage and monitor the entire shipping process from a single or multiple locations on your company's network. It's a highly flexible solution that delivers significant shipping efficiencies.

Configured to meet your requirements

As a high-volume shipper, you need efficient shipping management that puts you in control. So, we conduct an in-depth analysis of your shipping requirements then configure ExpressManager to integrate with your distribution and procurement system.

Through this intelligent integration, Express Manager is optimised to give you control of all outbound flows whilst also supporting the returns process.

Shipping Manager with single-screen overview

The Shipping Manager function allows you to import order information to ExpressManager automatically and immediately. Using Shipping Manager is easy due to a single-screen overview that enables you to:

- > view consignments, packages, and articles within packages
- > support multiple daily pick-ups
- > view scanning status
- > check prices in seconds
- > track your shipments and confirm proof of delivery
- > access dispatch history
- > generate standard and customised reports
- > transmit consignment details to TNT

Shipping Efficiency

Buy time

By integrating ExpressManager into your production process, you can scan the box and print the label while the package is still on the production line. Having all the information on your package means that you can be more productive as we can offer a later pick-up of your shipment.

Multiple Consignment Entry

For tasks such as direct mailing or when you need to send identical packages to multiple destinations, you only have to enter the package details once and link it to multiple addresses. ExpressManager will automatically create all the documentation you need and arrange to have it sent out immediately.

Templates for frequent shipments

You can also save time by creating and storing templates for regular consignments.

Multi-user access

ExpressManager links to your Enterprise Resource Planning system and can be accessed by individual or departmental users. Thus it becomes a vital part of your business by:

- > permitting continuous flow of processing from orders to expedition of goods
- > permitting intensive data monitoring
