raise standards with Special Handling Services

When your next shipment requires special handling, contact TNT for expert advice and a professional, safe and secure service.

Special Handling Services

Some shipments need special precautions. They may be classified as hazardous or dangerous, or they may be highly valuable or fragile and need to be carried in regulated or controlled environments.

Our highly experienced operators are trained to deal with any item requiring special handling and our vehicles and facilities are equipped to meet all relevant safety criteria. For high value items we use vehicles that are built to rigorous security standards and are tracked using GPS.

TNT Special Handling Services offer you professional advice to ensure that you can have complete peace of mind before, and after your shipments are transported.

TNT Special Services offers unrivalled experience in the handling of shipments for the Medical, Hi-tech, Automotive and Garment industries. We also provide refrigerated services, complemented by specialist packaging for food and wine distributors.

- Dangerous/hazardous goods - risk free transportation
- Perishable loads - transportation in a controlled environment
