

Disposals Policy

Purpose

TNT moves a large volume of freight through its network on behalf of its customers. From time to time a relatively small amount of freight becomes unidentified.

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that any unidentified goods which come into TNT's possession are dealt with appropriately.

Inspecting unidentified goods

Without limiting the provisions in TNT's Standard Terms and Conditions of Contract, prior to disposing of the unidentified goods in accordance with this Policy, TNT will attempt to ascertain the correct delivery details or the identity of the sender or receiver of the unidentified goods:

- from any external markings on the consignment; and/or
- by opening the consignment and removing the unidentified goods from their packaging and inspecting the unidentified goods.

Disposal of unidentified goods

Where the unidentified goods have been held for a period of at least three months and they remain unidentified, the unidentified goods may be disposed of by any means that TNT deems appropriate, including by:

- public auction or private sale of the unidentified goods or any part thereof; or
- destruction or abandonment of the unidentified goods or any part thereof.

TNT may retain any monies from such public auction or private sale of the unidentified goods.
